KEBLE ENTREPRENEURS’ EVENING – SPEAKER PROFILES

Dr Sheri Jacobson (1994)
Harley Therapy

With 10 years of training in psychotherapy and 15 years seeing patients, Sheri turned her solo practice into London’s largest chain of private counselling clinics. Her newest initiative HarleyTherapy.com is the UK’s leading booking platform for therapy, enabling anyone to find and book a trusted therapist wherever they are. Launched in 2017 it has won multiple awards including for Best Health Care Website 2018 and is listed by FTFuture100 as one of the UK’s fastest growing impact businesses.

Sheri’s mission is to scale up to become a global organisation working towards eliminating prolonged emotional suffering.

Jack Lennard (2013)
Quidditch Premier League

Jack started playing quidditch, the world’s only full-contact mixed-gender sport, at Keble in 2013, and by the time he graduated with a degree in Archaeology and Anthropology his tutors were sick of hearing about it. He has now founded the Quidditch Premier League, which has given him even more quidditch to ramble on about.

Set up to take quidditch to new heights of professionalism and popularity, the Quidditch Premier League has just finished its second season, and has become Jack’s full-time job (much to the natural surprise of his friends, family, and former teachers). The 2019 season will see the league expand into four new countries: France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Germany.

Jack hopes to offer some explanation as to how he went from archaeology to a career in quidditch, and to offer inspiration to anyone who wants to turn their passion into their profession - no matter how eccentric it might seem!

Ronit Kanwar (2016)
Empower Energy

Ronit is currently a third year reading Economics and Management and was formerly JCR President 2017-18. He is a co-founder and the CEO of Empower Energy, a social enterprise, connecting rural India to the modern economy through their Solar Powered Charging Stations (locally known as SolarATMs). The company has transformed from an idea to an operating company impacting hundreds of lives in India in a matter of months. In the process, the company has won numerous awards including the Morpheus Cup and was also 1 of 6 Hult Prize Global Finalists which presented at the United Nations HQ this September from over 100,000+ entrants, for a $1m prize.

Ronit hopes to transform millions of lives through social entrepreneurship and to inspire other students to join the space.
