LETTER FROM THE WARDEN

As I have said and written elsewhere it is a great privilege to be Warden of Keble. One aspect of that privilege is the variety of opportunities to participate in events to celebrate the College's achievements and heritage. For example, I very much look forward to seeing our 2014 Finalists back next summer when they graduate since a record number of forty-four individuals obtained first class degrees.

But Keble past and present is commemorated in a host of different ways with many of them recorded on the College website. To illustrate that general point, I shall mention just three events which evidence the range. As I write this I have just hosted a party in honour of Dr George Richardson who was Warden of the College between 1989 and 1994 and who reached his ninetieth birthday on 20 September. Earlier in the month Amanda and I, in the company of the Chaplain and members of the Chapel Choir, attended a service at All Saints Margaret Street to mark the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of William Butterfield, whose creation of the physical fabric of the College has been so important to our history and our culture. In March I travelled to Devon to plant one of three copper beech saplings on Mutter's Moor, near Sidmouth, close to what is described as 'Keble's seat', a viewpoint he is thought to have found inspirational in the context of writing verse.

The principal purpose of this letter is to ensure that there is an account of the changes in the Fellowship. In fact it has been a relatively quiet year in that regard. The only person leaving at the end of the academic year was Professor Richard Darton, who retired as Senior Research Fellow and Tutor in Chemical Engineering; he originally came to Keble in 1991. In the course of the year Dr Atif Ansar, who is a departmental lecturer in public policy and management at the Blavatnik School of Government, became a Fellow by Special Election.

Two Tutorial Fellows are becoming Professorial Fellows at the beginning of the new academic year: Markus Bockmuehl because of his election to the Dean Ireland Professorship of the Exegesis of Holy Scripture and Gesine Reinert because she has accepted a professorship in the Department of Statistics.

There are also six additions to the Fellowship for 2014/15. Professor Jeremy Tomlinson, who has moved from Birmingham University to become Professor of Diabetic Medicine in the University, takes up a Professorial Fellowship. Dr Beth Greenhough joins us as Official Fellow and Tutor in Geography, filling the post left vacant in 2013 when Dr Ali Rogers became Senior Tutor. There are two new Research Fellows and Tutors, Dr Stanislav Živný in Computer Science and Dr Danyu Yang in Mathematics. There are two further Fellows by Special Election: Dr Neil Herring, a College lecturer in medicine (and formerly a Research Fellow at Keble) and Dr Paul Monod, reflecting his position as Principal at the Centre for Medieval and Renaissance Studies with which Keble has had a long association. And, though it hardly counts as an addition given her existing Fellowship by Special Election, Dr Sarah Apetrei has been elected to a Fixed Term Fellowship in Ecclesiastical History.

Among our existing Fellows two particular achievements during the year deserve mention. Professor Sarah Whatmore was elected a Fellow of the British Academy in July and Marios Papadopoulos, a Fellow by Special Election, was awarded an MBE for services to music in Oxford in the New Year 2014 Honours.

Professor Tony Phelan was elected to an Emeritus Fellowship in Michaelmas Term 2013.

In Trinity Term 2014 I am delighted to say that Governing Body agreed to the election of five new Honorary Fellows from the beginning of the new academic year, all of them with strong Keble connections. They are Professor Richard English (Keble 1982), Director of the Centre for the Study of Terrorism and Political Violence at the University of St Andrews, Professor Sir Adrian Smith, Vice-Chancellor of the University of London and a former Tutorial Fellow in Mathematics at Keble, and three current members of the University of Oxford, Professor Vincent Gillespie (Keble 1972), JRR Tolkien Professor of English Language and Literature, Professor Lionel Tarassenko (Keble 1975), Professor of Electrical Engineering, and Professor Christopher Wickham (Keble 1968), Chichele Professor of Medieval History.

SPORTS AND GAMES

Badminton (Men and Mixed)

Michael Greenhalgh

This year saw two achievements and one disappointment. Foremost of the achievements was that Keble Men's team reached the semi-final of Cuppers by defeating St Anne's, St Hugh's and Queens before narrowly losing to Wadham. One deciding factor was that Wadham had two University team players while we only have one, Matthew Harris, who nevertheless won his singles convincingly against his fellow University team player. Another significant factor was that the Wadham team was more familiar with playing with feather shuttles, the default shuttle for Cuppers. Our second achievement was that our Mixed team, in only its second year in the league, finished second out of seven teams in the third division and will therefore be promoted to the second division next season.

Keble Mixed won four matches, drew one and lost one. We now have an established and very proficient first pair but need to recruit more Keblites, women especially, to maintain this encouraging progress. The disappointment was that our Men's team did not perform to its ability, as demonstrated in Cuppers, in the league. We won only one match, drew three, lost one and finished fourth out of six teams in the first division. We have therefore only just survived in the first division for next season. But we have learnt that losing very close games and dropping a game here and there become significant at the end of the season. Our 1pm Saturday sessions at Magdalen College School Sports Centre were well attended by Keblites in Michaelmas but rather more variably thereafter. These will continue next year and I hope will act as a good foundation for continuity of playing and enjoying the game which in turn will lead to enhanced performance in competition.

Boat Club (Men)

Paolo Spingardi

Keble Men's Rowing has taken massive strides since last season. We experienced a bumper year in the number of novice recruits, giving us an unprecedented squad depth. The crews gelled well, picked up the sport enthusiastically and produced two very strong Christ Church Regatta boats. The squad stuck through the land training in Hilary and amazingly increased in size despite the river being off limits for the whole term. By the end of it we were sorely disappointed to be unable to make use of our progress at Torpids due to its last minute cancellation.

Trinity Term finally gave us the opportunity to showcase our strength, with the return of our University squad rowers galvanising M1 and leading to the creation of a very formidable M2. The first part of term was dedicated to finalising the crews, which took longer than expected but then we started gearing up for the races, with M1 trying their hand at Worcester Regatta, coming into competition with other strong crews from Oxford and winning the event. Summer Eights was on the whole excellent for Keble. Having entered four crews into Rowing On, M3 and one beer boat made it into the competition but were surrounded by a lot of good crews and a lot of bad luck. Despite this, M3 evaded spoons, giving an inspired performance on the last day to almost bump before the klaxon sounded. M2 bumped on the second and third days and were denied on the Wednesday and Saturday due to crews ahead bumping out. This leaves them near the top of Division 4 and I'm sure they will move up even further next year. M1 had a frustrating start, with Teddy Hall escaping on the first day with a bump on Hertford but we made up for it over the next races, bumping three times to reach 10th in Division 1 and on the way getting Worcester back for last year's defeat.

We close this season with an incredibly strong and motivated squad that has every chance of doing better next year. Some of us will head to Henley this summer and I wish them the best of luck. I would like to thank Rory Copus and David Rhodes for the coaching and hours they have put into the crews. The amount of support we have had from the Keble Rowing Society and from College has been tremendous and we are extremely grateful to them. Lastly, Neptune Investment Management deserve a massive thanks for their generous sponsorship throughout the years.

Boat Club (Women)

Sarah Stuart

Women's rowing in Keble has tripled in participation since last year, an achievement in itself. The year began with Christ Church Regatta, an event for novices only. We entered two strong teams and one of these got through to the semi-final, a great feat as they were up against post-graduate colleges. The second event in the rowing calendar, Torpids was unfortunately cancelled due to water levels being too high. This was a disappointment as we had two very keen teams ready to compete. Summer Eights, the final event in the rowing calendar, was hotly anticipated with W1 aiming to keep climbing in Division 1. For the first time in many years W2 were making a strong attack to gain a fixed division place. After the four days of racing both boats had put on a great show. W1 managed to remain prominent in Division 1 climbing two places. W2, who were given a bad position at the beginning of the week behind Green Templeton, proved that it is not all about first boats by becoming head of their division on the Saturday, bumping every day apart from one. Having two Keble women's boats participating in Summer Eights has provided a legacy for the future of Keble women's rowing. On behalf of the rowers, I would like to thank David Rhodes for all his support and wise words as coach of women's rowing this year.

Undefeated in the competition in 2013, the defence of Keble's first league victory in two decades got off to an inauspicious start after a disappointing opening defeat to Worcester. Last year's Captain Rishi Majithia blasted a quick-fire 30 but a bowler-heavy outfit failed to set more than 111 and the away side knocked off the target with 2 overs to spare.

On paper Keble were the strongest side by a distance and after the initial wobble the team began to gel, with our bowling attack dominating the rest of the division. Queen's were humbled by 9 wickets in a comprehensive win that signalled the start of an impressive winning streak.

A sterner test awaited against a Balliol team that we had failed to beat for the past five years. Put into bat on a flat deck in glorious sunshine, a measured batting performance from skipper Miles Dilworth (88 not out) and Martin Cox (79 not out) provided Keble with a formidable total of 221-1. The team couldn't have produced a more polished performance against the side that we shared the title with the previous season. Alastair Garner delivered an unplayable opening spell of out-swing bowling, sending down 5 maidens and conceding just 9 runs in his 8 overs. With Balliol under pressure from the start, George Saunders finished off the resistance, ending with 4-27 to give Keble an impressive victory by 82 runs.

Our Cuppers assault was somewhat more difficult to assess. After having cruised to the quarter-finals, Sam Warren bowled with control and precision to limit Exeter to 147. Dilworth led the chase with 68 and Keble looked to be on course for the semi-finals before the opener offered up a simple caught-and-bowled chance to his opposite number. As if that wasn't generous enough, the ungrateful Exeter skipper then insisted on us assisting them with substitute fielders and our batsmen began to struggle against the composite Exeter-Keble XI and eventually fell 5 runs short of their target, denying us Cuppers glory once again. A note to next year's Captain: sportsmanship is not worth it. I promise I'm not bitter.

It was to be Keble's second and last defeat of the season. Alex Scott, our Blue from last year, commented that our best side of 2013 could have challenged the University 2nds and our bowling attack was enhanced yet further this season by Khalil Osman who, alongside Garner, consistently dismantled the opposition top order before an unmatched support attack of Saunders, Dilworth, Warren, Seb Carter and Joe Foster, offered Keble's opponents little respite.

Keble embarrassed Univ, bowling the High Street side out for 21 before the return of the (Ed) Knight helped us to a straightforward victory over Somerville. 2012's gaffer smacked 69 alongside an eye-catching 64 from Tommy Siman, helped Keble to post 221 for the second time in the season before Garner rattled through the Somerville top order with 4-17 to keep Keble in the title race for the last round of fixtures.

A tight end to the season that Cherwell described as 'happening' meant that Keble were relying on Worcester to lose their final game, whilst themselves requiring a win over last year's Cuppers champions St John's to stand any chance of holding onto their title. Having been put in to bat, Dilworth set up the innings with a steady 56 before Ed Knight signed off his Keble career with a superb 107 not out, accompanied by another swashbuckling innings of 41 by Majithia to give Keble a mammoth total of 267-3. Our richer rivals never stood a chance, with Garner and Osman not giving an inch before Olivier, Dilworth, Saunders, Foster and Carter polished off the lower-order. With Worcester suffering a crushing defeat to Somerville, Keble won the League outright on head-to-head wins over Balliol to secure the Division1 League title.

Last season we nominated Ali Garner as player of the season; this year I couldn't possibly single out one player for such particular praise. Garner continues to be the outstanding bowler in league cricket and the addition of Osman gave us an attack few opponents could cope with. Martin Cox had his best Keble season to date, adding calm, experience and most importantly heavy runs to the top order. Siman, who, when he doesn't loft a catch to mid-on, is the most gifted batsman in the side and Alex Henry added strength and depth to the batting order. Tom Hamilton and Harry Kent distinguished themselves with the gloves whilst Warren, Carter and Foster, whom I criminally underused, bowled skilfully, often making crucial breakthroughs for their side. A healthy pool of fresher talent and our late-season form give me confidence that this is a side who can definitely repeat the success of this season.

A big thanks to George Saunders who bowled beautifully throughout the season as well adding some dulcet and invaluable Huddersfield tones to the Vice-Captaincy. Thank you also to everyone who came down to contribute – Ben, Sam, Eshan, Felix, Lucien, Rishi C, Heli and Adam – you underestimate how big a difference it makes to have eleven accomplished cricketers in the side. Caps-off to Rishi and Ed, who counter-balanced my turgid batting with some explosive hitting and much appreciated advice as ex-captains; we hope we gave you a fond farewell.

I'm sure that Keble can continue their cricket streak as we pass on the baton to next season's Captain Khalil Osman and Vice-Captain Tommy Siman in 2015. Next year it's time for the league and cup double.

Hockey (Men's and Mixed)

Daniel Johnson

This year started positively, with new freshers in Joe Foster, Sebastian Carter, Dani Edmunds and Hannah Gerretsen joining an already strong squad.

Michaelmas term was plagued with (the almost traditional for Keble Hockey) availability issues, going from a 20+ strong squad to 9 the next week. Fortunately with support from the girls' team and committed regulars we managed to pull off victories in most of our games and were looking fairly strong. Then we came up against the team that would come to dominate college hockey this year. Teddy Hall had joined forces with Pembroke College to make a team mostly consisting of University hockey players that swept the league, going undefeated despite our best efforts. We ended Michaelmas in third place.

Hilary Term rolled round with a new league and a fresh start. Our first game was against Teddy Hall/Pembroke, and we came through in spectacular style, beating them and then old rivals Catz the following week. The league looked like it was ours, but a tragic line up of University matches and other commitments left us with seven starting against New College. Despite a good fight, we lost, and with this and an inferior goal difference, the league went to Teddy Hall once more. The curse of Keble hockey men's league continues, as once again a fantastic team just missed out on league victory, 2nd place.

Trinity brought with it the biggest competition of the year, mixed Cuppers. With a trophy to defend and a point to prove we stomped our first match against St Hilda's only to reach the quarter finals against Teddy Hall/Pembroke. With two league victories under their belts they would prove to be our toughest competition. We fought hard but an early lead for Teddy Hall proved hard to overturn. A last minute goal put us 6-5 up and gave us the victory after only winning for around ten seconds of total game time. A win in the semis against Oriel put us against long time Cuppers and league rivals Catz. With a large crowd coming down to support for both teams and two strong squads with plenty of University players and substitutes, this was shaping up to be another nail-biter. It wasn't. 6-0, an outstanding and controlling performance from Keble dominated the game, leading to the Mixed Cuppers trophy for the second year running.

It's now up to Sebastian Carter to make it three years in a row and try for a league title that's been a long time overdue!

Lacrosse

Eleanor Hinde

For a sport only represented at University level by seven Keble undergraduates we had a fantastic turn out and level of enthusiasm at all league and Cuppers games. Maybe this is because I mentioned the level of aggression and feistiness required for this sport in my promoting e-mail?

The intercollege league failed to reach a conclusive end (due to adverse weather conditions preventing us from using the pitches later in the term). However in the games that Keble did play we were undefeated.

Mid-way through the term we organised a mini 'varsity' with Kings College Cambridge, The Queen's College and New all participating in a round robin tournament. This culminated with all of King's celebrating their total domination over a couple of pints and the six nations in Keble bar.

Lastly Keble got to the semi-finals in Cuppers, but this final match came down to a golden goal... So next year it's ours!

Netball

Victoria Adelment

It has yet again been a fantastic year for Keble netball. With a considerably higher number of new students wanting to play than in previous years, our fresher-dominated team was set to do well in the league. Starting in a strong Division 2, we were up against our (loathed) rivals: Oriel and St John's. In Michaelmas term we began weekly practice sessions, including some joint training with the St Hugh's team, which resulted in huge improvements and culminated in a spectacular win against St Catz in eighth week. This improvement continued throughout Hilary, with the team going from strength to strength and winning six out of eight matches – including a marathon 22-14 win in eighth week. After comfortably beating St John's 14-3 and with similarly significant victories most weeks, the team deserved its success, coming a close third in the league.

Keble continued to dominate with a remarkable performance at Cuppers. The girls powered through the round-robin tournament, losing to New College but easily qualifying for the knock-out rounds. A tough semi-final saw Keble then beat New College in turn and sail into the final against Teddy Hall. Alas the Hall were stronger and, importantly, much taller – so though our team fought hard, victory was not ours.

A huge thank you to everyone who played, for showing extraordinary commitment and effort. I have loved captaining such an incredible team and wish the best of luck to Alice Duffy who I am sure will lead Keble to further and greater successes.

Rugby (Men) James Nottage

It was a transitional year for KCRFC in the end, but not without points of pride. 2013/2014 began with the Ghosts game on a remarkably lovely October day: once again College was conquered by the added pounds and desire a few years in the City seems to put on half the Old Boys, but it was the closest fixture in years and was played (and afterwards celebrated) with suitable panache and humour. The club's senior generations are clearly very fond of College and massive thanks should once again go to Max Cole for herding cats and putting out an estimable squad. As for the new blood, positive signs abounded from a very large and keen group of freshers, both undergraduate and postgraduate. Against a Ghosts side that contained the formidable spine of our previous season's league double and Cuppers finalist team not a single inch was given. Signs were good.

We began the season proper with the traditional opener against the Hall, and it was a barnstormer. High-octane from the get-go, lots of niggles, and no quarter given by either side, it ended a bruising draw. Unfortunately that was the high point of the Michaelmas league as injuries, a lack of experience and the challenges of constructing a new side proved too tough to beat grizzled Christ Church and New outfits. Relegation's ugly head reared itself for the first time in over five years, but a thorough dismantling of Oriel put paid to that nightmare. KCRFC scraped through in the top division but hadn't exactly set the world alight. Still, there was total consensus that we had the snazziest kit in the College League.

So it was with trepidation accompanied with no shortage of optimism that we began the second league. Dreams of a league title were immediately scotched after being totally snookered by a Hall side who were not particularly impressive themselves. Grumblings about the fixture schedule – as the usual decider the Keble-Hall game is normally the last of the season – couldn't mask the fact we were just nowhere near full strength, after injuries reached a peak. However bags and bags of heart were on display as a team containing more than half the players out of position did the club proud. Revenge was sweet against Christ Church, who were comprehensively thumped, followed by a scratchy but compelling win against New. Keble saw the New Year in with a turkey-and-cheese-plumpened team burying plucky new boys Lincoln. Finally a rematch of last year's blood-and-guts Cuppers semi-final saw us overcome Catz by one point, supervised by club legend Dan Guinness in his grand return after years out with back surgery. A strong second finish in this league, then, and markers laid down for Cuppers.

Markers that were sadly false. A cruel, inexpertly seeded draw and some cowardly forfeitures meant that our first game in the Cup was a quarter-final against the Hall. Extraordinary overhead conditions lent the day a suitably apocalyptic tone, and while we weathered both the hailstorm and the Hall storm in the first half, the inexorable march of the men in mustard and claret could not be endured in the second half. Defensively we had been harder-working than at any previous point in the season – hard shifts in extra training sessions had more than paid off – but a cutting edge in attack was lacking. A vast crowd shouted their socks off but it simply wasn't to be.

That defeat turned out to be the end for several seasoned veterans: unfaltering fullback and the safest pair of hands in the game R Majithia; elusive and mysteriously fast wing V Adhikari; big tall A Hoyal; the wily E Crawford; man mountain T Quant; string-puller R Ede; the mighty S Hare; committed debutant in his last year C Auer; one-cap-wonder P Olivier; and myself. All have been loyal and stalwart servants to the club. Standout performers this season were the irrepressible D Barnes, for whom seemingly no shoulder injury is enough to hinder the nastiest hand-offs I've ever seen, incoming vice-captain M Gompels, who cemented his excellent start last year by showing moxy and wit in the loose and real leadership everywhere, and A Collias, whose move from wing-forward to the centres puzzled many at the start of the season but turned out to be remarkably astute: pity the man opposite in the defensive line, as Antony will never tire of running straight, fast and low. Among the new boys many impressed: T Hamilton's insatiable desire for catching out own kick-offs brought equal parts concern and wonder; T Siman's early-season incision in the backs was ended by a nasty injury; L Martin's leviathan presence in the pack was a real boon; and next season's skipper J Mitchell quite simply never stopped working, at pace and with class.

With these players, some quality freshers, a continuation of the intensified training regime (Pack Thursdays, with 7am line-out sessions in the Parks followed by generous helpings of Rich Gibbs' finest fry-ups must go on) and the hale and hearty social atmosphere of this season, the club will be as good as anyone in this city. Outgoing captain S Steinert's legacy will be the laying of some very strong foundations indeed. Hopes will be high for next year.

Squash

Felix Hamer

It has been a mixed year for the squash team. Extreme highs when our opponents didn't turn up were countered with terrible, terrible lows on the more common occasions when they did. Repeated heartbreak despite blood, sweat and tears (Phil) meant that Keble was relegated from Division 1 to 2. The general apathy which marked college squash this year is epitomised by the fact that the fate of Division 2 has yet to be decided. With one win, two losses and three unplayed matches, one would hope that we've done enough to stay up but it's in the hands of the gods. On the plus side, the squash budget was deployed effectively to buy two stick rackets and some balls which have been put to extensive use already and will hopefully set a precedent that sees more people take up squash in terms to come. Many thanks to Phil Barber, Tom Philips, James May, Matt Harris, Tom Vipond, Elliott Rogers and any other ringers who stepped in. Good luck to Rob Weston who is tasked with returning Keble squash to the top echelons of College sport.

Tennis

Rishi Chotai

Keble made it through to the quarter finals of Cuppers for the first time in years. First, a very tight 5-4 win against local rivals St John's who boasted a Uni Blues Player and former 2nds captain. All three pairs picked up vital wins in a match in which John's looked favourites right until their end. High on confidence, Merton were beaten in a more convincing 5-4 win (if there is such a thing) with all three pairs again picking up wins. A quarter final trip was unanticipated for the Keble team and unfortunately ended up in a disappointing but nonetheless very close defeat. Coming up against eventual runners-up, New College, we started well drawing level at 2-2 but a couple of close losses put us behind and we were never able to recover, losing 5-3 in the end despite an astounding win from Olivia Hadjinicolaou and Sam Hornby coming back from 5 games to 1 down in one of the matches, winning 6 games in a row to win 7-5. Big thanks to Tom Phillips, Ajay Kannan, Adam Tucker, Sam Hornby, Olivia Hadjinicolaou and James Carr for playing in Cuppers this year. We have also had three league teams entered giving everyone a chance to play some games for Keble and all in all they went very well with all three teams picking up a couple of wins during the term.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Music Society

Joseph Zammit

At the end of a very busy musical year at Keble, it is a pleasure to recall some of the highlights and report on the Society's activities. Michaelmas started with much delight, as we welcomed in new students to the College with a Big Band performance and the Freshers' Recital, providing a first opportunity to hear some of our newest musicians. Auditions for the Music Scholarship took place, with trombonist Peter Fitch appointed. The ever-popular piano lessons continued well under the expert tuition of RCM tutor Lynette Stulting.

Regular organ recitals were heard in Chapel, some offered as part of the Compline series by various college Organ Scholars, others given by renowned organists Thomas Trotter, Neil Cockburn and Paul Carr, and two great organ cycles by Clive Driskill-Smith and David Maw.

The Britten at Keble series returned in Michaelmas, organised by Gibbs Organ Scholar Richard Dawson, with the final few sets from the Complete Folksong Arrangements and a special concert with the Henry Ley Singers and Musica Figurata on Britten's birthday providing much entertainment and a stunning way to celebrate 100 years of Britten.

November saw David Bednall once again provide superb improvised silent film organ accompaniment, this time to Fritz Lang's Metropolis, which drew in good attendance to the Chapel-turned-cinema.

The Big Band went from strength to strength this year, with contributions to the Halfway Hall celebrations, Freshers' Week, a JCR welfare event, and termly Jazz Evenings which provided fun entertainment appreciated by all corners of College midway through Michaelmas and Hilary. Many thanks go to Choral Scholar Rob Barker for his endless enthusiasm and musical direction over the past three years.

The Henry Ley Singers, under Richard Dawson's direction, enjoyed a second year of exciting engagements, with a now-traditional joyous festive concert given on the Library Staircase to welcome in the Oxmas season, contributions to the Early Music Festival, an upcoming residence in August 2014 at Ely Cathedral, and the recording of their debut professional CD of music by Clive Russell and Benjamin Britten due for release in August 2014.

The Keble String Orchestra completed its first year at Keble under Paulin Shek's careful management and the baton of Henshall Organ Scholar James Hardie. Two successful concerts in the O'Reilly Theatre included music by Purcell, Corelli, Mendelssohn and Tchaikovsky.

The termly Warden's recitals organised by Music Scholar Owen Duffey continue to provide the chance to hear quality performances from Keble students, and Trinity Term's recital was combined with an inspired exhibition of contemporary art by Janet Boulton in a three-day Eye Music series, including performances by Joe Scarffe (bassoon) and Samuel Rodgers (altered objects), Music Fellow Simon Whalley (with a solo for piano composed by him for the event), the Choral Scholars, and the Music Scholars.

The Early Music Festival, a four-day celebration of early music in Hilary, masterminded by James Hardie, brought in renowned performers of the genre to produce sublime performances in the wonderful acoustic of the Chapel. We welcomed violinist Bojan Čičić who performed unaccompanied Pisenel and Bach arrangements, and Oxford Baroque whose concert included Schütz's Musikalische Exequien. Ye Fyne Dogges, a specially formed group of Choral and Organ Scholars, opened the festival with a selection of eye-opening bawdy madrigals and catches in the bar, The Henry Ley Singers and Temple of Apollo performed in a pre-Compline recital of Schütz and Bach, and the Chapel Choir sang for festal evensong, including the magnificent forty-part Spem in Alium by Tallis, to a packed Chapel.

I wish to thank all of the KCMS Committee, the ensemble managers and conductors, Music Fellow Simon Whalley, and the Warden for their support, dedication and hard work which has made this year so successful. Particular thanks are due for the important behind-the-scenes work by Andrew Brocklehurst and Duncan Sim, who have worked to leave the Society in an organised and financially secure position. On behalf of all involved in or entertained by our events, thank you to those who have supported the Society's activities financially. Without such generous support, the above report would be much shorter. I wish next year's committee, under the capable leadership of Music Scholar Peter Fitch, all the best and look forward to seeing some equally special events next year.

The Hursley Society The Chaplain

At least once a term, Keble invites a range of prominent theologians to lead workshops and lectures on topics of wider interest and in the process, attracts a wide range of students to engage in some fascinating discussions. Organised primarily by Keble's Theology Fellow, Professor Markus Bockmuehl, in coordination with the Chapel, this year the Hursley Theological Society offered some high quality events. In Michaelmas Term, a large audience welcomed and engaged with Professor Nigel Biggar, the Regius Professor of Moral and Pastoral Theology at Oxford. Professor Biggar addressed the question, 'Christian Theology in Defence of War?' in which he discussed his provocative new book arguing a just war position supporting aggressive war in punishment of grave injustice. Responses to his talk were offered by Professor Esther Reed, Associate Professor of Theology and Director of the Network for Religion and Public Life at the University of Exeter, and Dapo Akande, University Lecturer in Public International Law at Oxford and Co-Director of the Oxford Institute for Ethics, Law, and Armed Conflict. A smaller gathering was also offered by the Hursley Society in Michaelmas Term with Professor N T Wright, Professor of New Testament and Early Christianity at the University of St Andrews and formerly Bishop of Durham. Professor Wright engaged a group of about twenty students and young academics after dinner, introducing a conversation about 'What I Wish I'd Known as a PhD Student'. In Hilary Term, we welcomed the new Principal of Pusey House, The Revd Dr George Westhaver, who offered a workshop on 'How Anglo-Catholicism Lost its way on The Bible'. Dr Westhaver spoke in particular about the early Anglo-Catholic hermeneutic and the implications of its rejection by the Oxford Movement's second generation of leaders. In Trinity Term, Keble hosted Professor Richard Hays, one of today's best-known New Testament scholars and the Dean of Duke Divinity School. He led a workshop on 'Figural Interpretation in the Gospels: Hijacking Israel's Scriptures?', a presentation which synthesized his Hulsean lectures in Cambridge and drew from his forthcoming book on Scripture in the Gospels. Following this event, a smaller group of Theology graduate students and young academics had the opportunity to meet with Professor Hays over pizza, where he introduced an engaging and more personal conversation about his life and work entitled 'How I Changed my Mind'. We are grateful to Professor Bockmuehl and the many scholars who offered a glimpse of their work this academic year, and we look forward to the 2014-2015 academic year and the continued success of drawing scholars of such high quality to Keble.

Martin Esslin Society

Emma Brand

The Martin Esslin Society is responsible for the programming and administration of the O'Reilly Theatre in term time. Our two main roles are choosing and supporting student productions in the theatre, and awarding grants to support student drama both within the theatre, and for Keble students wherever they happen to be performing. 2013/14 has been an incredibly successful year for MES and the O'Reilly. With the installation of the new lighting desk at the start of the year, we were able to facilitate the technically complex, critically acclaimed sell-out run of Chicago, a production that, with huge MES presence on the creative team, strengthened ties between Keble students and the theatre, as well as contributing to the general rise of musicals in prominence and prestige in the Oxford drama scene. Indeed, since Michaelmas, we have played host to one musical blockbuster a term, with the revolutionary Sweeney Todd (it had a revolve!) following in Hilary, and Parade: The Musical, a Tony Award-winning musical about the historical conviction and eventual murder of Leo Frank in the Deep South, bringing the 2013/14 run to an end. In between, highlights have included the unnerving psychological drama, The Foxfinder, an adaptation of Sir Gawain and the Green Knight that saw the O'Reilly floor transformed into a meadow with real grass, an entirely Keble-backed sell-out production of 'Tis Pity She's a Whore, and a chilling adaptation of Lord of the Flies, which will be remembered for its innovative set design featuring a mountain of rostra. Next term looks set to be just as exciting; the team behind 'Tis Pity will be back with Jerusalem, and we will end the term with Assassins, a lesser-known and darkly funny Sondheim musical about the killers and would-be killers of US Presidents. We also have plans to expand the range of what we offer in the O'Reilly, and that will be something for the next committee, to whom we will hand over in the new year, to explore further.

THE CHAPEL

The Chaplain, Revd Dr Jenn Strawbridge (2001), writes:

The Chapel community welcomed students to a new academic year with tours of the Chapel and tea, as well as a number of student leaders available in the Chapel throughout Induction Week to answer questions and extend a warm welcome to the Keble community. The year began with a Sung Eucharist on the first Sunday of Term and continued with at least thirteen services each week including the Daily Offices, Sung and Said Eucharists, and Evensong. The increasingly popular service of Compline (also known as 'Night Prayers') is now in its fourth year, offered every Thursday evening in term at 9pm. This candlelit service is led by Keble College Chapel Choral and Organ Scholars, and in even weeks of each term is preceded by a thirty-minute organ recital by organ scholars from across the University. Student preachers once again offered a short homily at Choral Evensong on Wednesdays, bringing in new students to the congregation as they supported their peers. One highlight of the first term was a visit by former College Visitor and Archbishop of Canterbury, The Lord Williams of Oystermouth, who preached at an Evensong to a Chapel packed with Keble students. Other highlights of Michaelmas Term included a Teaching Eucharist, Morning Prayer led by members of the Christian Union each Tuesday, Roman Catholic Mass offered by the Catholic Chaplaincy, a Choral Requiem Mass for All Souls' Day, a Remembrance Day Service, and Mulled Wine and Mince Pies in the Chaplain's Flat leading into the ever popular and standing-room only Advent Lessons and Carols Service wonderfully led by Keble College Chapel Choir. This year also saw the third offering of a Christmas Lessons and Carols Service on the final evening of term. Old Members returning to preach in Michaelmas Term included The Revd Paul Abram, formerly Chaplain to the Queen and of St Peter-ad-Vincula at HM Tower of London. The Revd Dr Peter Waddell, Dean of the Chapel at the University of Winchester also returned to the College to preach.

Hilary Term began with a Sung Eucharist and a Chapel Party, followed in the second week of term by the seventh annual Holocaust Memorial Service with a powerful address given by Rabbi Dr Tony Bayfield CBE, President of the Movement for Reform Judaism. The service was once again enhanced by the presence and voices of the OxfordShir choir from the Oxford Jewish Community and numerous members of the wider Oxford community joined us for the service. The Mitre Club Dinner, the Chapel's annual Black Tie dinner, brought out the creative side of the Chapel community in the third week of Hilary Term and the events of the evening kicked off with a Solemn Evensong. Elliott Cramer, a Theology finalist and Chapel Warden, and Megan Kearney, a Theology post-graduate and Chapel Clerk, did a fabulous job of organising the event and handed the mitre to James Hardie, our second-year Organ Scholar. As a part of Arts Week in the University, the Chapel hosted an exhibition from The Forgiveness Project in London entitled 'The F Word'. The internationally-renowned exhibition is a collation of stories and photographs of forgiveness. As a part of Arts Week, Keble's Organ Scholars – all of whom have received their ARCO – organised a four-day Early Music Festival that was well attended from across the Oxford community. The Festival included world-class performances, master classes and services, including a closing Evensong with the forty-part Spem in Alium and a packed Chapel. In the middle of Hilary Term, the Chapel celebrated the baptism of one student and three confirmations with Bishop Jack Nicholls officiating. Other highlights included Chaplains' teas and Corporate Communion, with members from six Keble parishes attending and The Revd Canon Joanna Udal, The Archbishop of Canterbury's Secretary for Anglican Communion Affairs, preaching. Old Members returning to preach in Hilary Term included The Revd Dr Dominic Keech, Curate at Wantage Parish and recently appointed Chaplain of Brasenose, and The Revd Richard Lamey, Rector of St Paul's in Wokingham. For the third year (now tradition!), the Chapel offered a week-long study retreat at a manor house in Devon at the end of Hilary Term. Thirteen members of the Chapel community spent time walking, reading, cooking, and praying.

PARISHES UPDATE

The Chaplain, Revd Dr Jenn Strawbridge (2001), writes:

The following priests have been licensed or appointed to Keble College parishes: The Reverend Pat Bhutta to Aldermaston and Woolhampton; The Reverend Adrian Brook to the Okehampton Team; The Reverend John Chandler to the Benefice of Wormingford and Mount Bures with Little Horkesley; The Reverend Philip Corbett to Lewisham; The Reverend Libby Dady to the Glaven Valley Benefice; The Reverend Edward McKenna to the benefice of Low Marple; The Reverend Stephen Payne to Plymstock and Hooe; The Reverend Chris Shipley to Eastchurch with Leysdown and Harty; The Reverend Philip Tarris to the Sampfords and Radwinter; The Reverend Andrew Thomas to the benefice of Dulverton with Brushford, Brompton Regis, Upton and Skilgate; and The Reverend Kathryn Windsor to Storrington.

The College's right of presentation has been suspended for the following benefices: St Andrew, Worthing; the benefice of Charlton, Dover; and St Alban and St Patrick, Highgate. The suspension of St Barnabas, Oxford expired in June 2014 and consultation about next steps is on-going. After much prayer and discernment, the parish of St Michael and All Angels, Woolwich was closed and Keble remains the patron of St Mary Magdalene, Woolwich. The suspensions of presentation to Plymstock and Hooe and to Low Marple were both lifted.

New pastoral schemes and reorganisations have also taken place this year: St Remegius, Water Newton has been merged with Castor Parish and moved into the Diocese of Peterborough; the benefice of Clavering and Langley with Arkesden and Wicken Bonhunt was dissolved and reorganised as the Benefice of Clavering with Langley, Arkesden, Wicken Bonhunt, Manuden and Berden; the benefice of Ashwellthorpe, Forncett, Fundenhall, Hapton, Tacolneston and Wreningham has been reorganised as the Upper Tas Valley Benefice. A proposal for reorganisation in the benefice of St Peter, Shelley with Chipping Ongar is on-going. Moreover, eight benefices/Keble parishes are actively seeking new clergy at the time of writing.

This year the Chaplain visited nine parishes and Keble College Chapel Choir travelled to Chale on the Isle of Wight to offer Evensong as part of the parish's 900th anniversary celebration. In September 2013, the College offered a Parishes' Day with lunch, tours, tea, and Evensong for over one hundred participants. The next offerings are the Keble Clergy Conference, which will take place the 7-9 January 2015, and Corporate Communion, which will be on Wednesday, 11 February 2015.

OM OBITUARIES

We record with regret the deaths of the following Old Members. We are most grateful to relatives and friends who have supplied an appreciation or biographical details to supplement our own records.

Raphael Altman (1975)

died on 3 October 2013 aged 69. Born in South Africa he was educated at Sea Point Boys' High in Cape Town. He came to the UK and was a Religious Education teacher in Leighton Buzzard until he retired. He met his wife Tamar, who was originally from New York, in the UK and they lived at Great Milton. He worked at the nearby Waterperry Gardens and then came up to Keble as a Mature Student to read Oriental Studies. For ten years Raphael and Tamar ran a glass painting business. Tamar had struggled with a weight problem from the age of eleven and in 1999 Raphael wrote an article for Radiance Magazine, a journal for larger women, in which he praised his wife's shape calling her his 'fat Aphrodite'. They were both activists with the group Dignity in Dying and believed in the right to choose. Raphael was diagnosed with cancer in 2006 and gave evidence to the 2012 Government Commission on assisted dying. By October 2013 he had stopped his treatment for cancer and Tamar was suffering from diabetes, neuralgia and muscular pain and stiffness and they marked 3 October in their diary with the single word 'depart'. They sent emails to their two children and close friends in which they said goodbye. They were found in a room at home lit by a soft red light and with soothing music playing, a glass with traces of poison nearby. At the inquest at Oxfordshire Coroners' Court the assistant coroner Peter Clark said the couple had made a careful decision to end their lives in a dignified way. They leave a daughter Tanya, a son Tai and grandchildren.

Albert Lawrence Arcus (1946)

died on 5 April 2013 aged 90. Born in Australia he was educated at Guildford Grammar School, Western Australia and then (1941) studied Engineering at the University of Western Australia. He was a keen sportsman involved in rowing, football, athletics and shooting. He was awarded a Rhodes scholarship and came up to Keble to read PPE. He rowed for the College (1947-48) and attended the International Students Conference in Switzerland as an Australian representative (1947). He returned to Australia and was Commercial Secretary in Australian embassies in Indonesia and Japan (1952-55). He was appointed Contracts Officer in the Aircraft Branch of the Department of Defence Production in Ottawa (1955-57) and after two years (1958-60) as a Ford Foundation Pre-Doctoral Fellow he became a Senior Consultant in the Management Sciences Division of Touche, Ross, Bailey and Smart, New York (1960-61). He was a Lecturer in Production Management at the University of California (1962-63) and gained a PhD (1963). He was appointed a Professional Counsellor in the Management Development Division of the International Labour Organisation. He died at the Sunrise Assisted Living Cinco Ranch in Fort Bend, Texas. His death was registered by Denise Hussey a former daughter-in-law.

Philip Anthony (Tony) Bell (1949)

died on 4 August 2014 aged 84. His son David forwarded the following obituary which was written by Tony himself shortly before he died. 'He was educated at Hele's School, Exeter and Sir Joseph Williamson's Mathematical School, Rochester. He spent his National Service in the RAF as an Education Sergeant, where he decided not to become a teacher. He came up in 1949 to read History. He was a member of Tenmantale, to whom he read a paper on the History of Science. He won College Colours for rugby and athletics, holding the College record for the 100 yards. On graduating he took up an offer (aided by a Fulbright travel scholarship) from the University of California at Berkeley to study Business Administration. After a short spell as Management Trainee with Alfred Bird and son, makers of Bird's Custard (1953-55), he joined Proctor and Gamble (1955-90) in the north-east of England and held a variety of management positions including Programming Manager; this led to an invitation to become a Visiting Lecturer in Computing Science at the University of Newcastle (1970-72) – quite a long way from his History degree! He had a six month assignment doing a computer feasibility study for the Belgian branch of the company, and subsequently travelled widely giving lectures to various P and G subsidiaries on a variety of management subjects. He kept fit playing rugby, then table tennis and finally bridge; this became his main hobby in retirement and he achieved the rank of National Master, winning a number of tournaments locally and regionally. He married Jean Talbot from LMH; they had two children, Philippa, the elder, continued the family traditions of computing and foreign travel, while the younger, David, won a scholarship to Christ Church. He was proud of his granddaughter Georgina, despite her choice of Cambridge for her higher education, and equally proud of his grandson Charles who is excelling at youth rugby. Tony and Jean have looked after one another as their health declined, enjoying to the end their home in Hexham, with its garden and matchless views over the town and the Northumberland countryside.'

Ronald Eldred Birkett (1947)

died on 11 September 2013 aged 87. Educated at Birkenhead School he came up to Keble four years later after the war. He read History and played rugby for the College. His wife Ann writes that he was House Master of the Junior House at Ellesmere College (1951-68) and then became Headmaster of the Junior School at The King's School, Macclesfield (1968-86). After his retirement he was the Secretary of the Macclesfield Historical Society for twenty years. They moved to Churchdown, Gloucestershire (2010) to be nearer their family after his health deteriorated.

- James Frederick Blades (1953) died on 20 December 2013 aged 89. Born in Australia, he was educated at St Peter's Collegiate School in Adelaide and served in the Royal Australian Air Force in the Pacific (1942-45). After the war he studied for a BA (Arts) degree at the University of Adelaide (1947) and then went to St Barnabas Theological College in Adelaide. He was ordained Deacon (1949) and Priest (1950) being Curate of Christ Church, North Adelaide (1949-50) and Mount Gambier, South Australia (1950-51). He was Missionary Chaplain, Penola, South Australia (1951-53) and then came to Keble to read Theology (1953-55). He rowed in the College 4th VIII (1954) and was a member of the Newman Society. He was Curate of St Anne, Stanley, Liverpool (1955-56) and then returned to Australia to become Rector of Maitland, South Australia (1956-63). He married Elizabeth in St James' Church, Cordrossan (1962). He was Rector of Riverton (1963-68) and then became School Chaplain and Lecturer at Patterson Theological Centre (1968-72). He moved to be Rector of All Saints Church, Seacliff (1974-89). Although no longer a member of the Perth Diocese after he retired (2006), he had permission from the Archbishop to celebrate weddings, baptisms and other ceremonies. He was on the committees of the Right to Life Association and the Missionary Society and supported Amnesty International. He enjoyed opera. He leaves a wife Elizabeth, a son David who is a lawyer in Perth with a wife Anya and daughter Grace, also a daughter Mary-Anne who plays the flute in the WA Symphony Orchestra and her husband Adrian and a second unmarried daughter who is a violinist and Associate Concert Master of the WASO.
- Brian Paish Brownless TD (1943) died on 10 July aged 87. Educated at Prescot Grammar School he came up to Keble as an RAF Probationer and after one year was called-up to train in Canada as a Navigator but worked mostly as an Education Officer. He returned to Keble to read Philosophy, was President of the Mitre Club (1950) and coxed the College VIII and for the University. He went to Wells Theological College, was ordained Deacon (1952) and Priest (1953) being Curate of St Aidan, Manchester (1952-54). He moved as Curate to Chorlton-cum-Hardy (1954-56) and was then Curate of St Peter, Swinton being in charge of All Saints, Swinton (1956-58). He became Vicar of St Stephen, Elton, Bury (1958-66). His wife Joyce writes: 'When we moved to Bury in 1957 he became a TA Chaplain and served with the Lancashire Fusiliers and later in Staffordshire with the Staffs Regiment. He was Chaplain for thirteen years and was on the Army Reserve list of Officers. He was awarded the Territorial Decoration (1973). He enjoyed the meetings and annual camps in Germany and the UK, also the annual Chaplains Conference. In Bury he and the TA Director used to have fishing days in the Trough of Bowland (I don't remember any catch). He was area Secretary for the United Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in the Lichfield Diocese (1966-77). He was Rector of Yoxall (1977-82) and Vicar of St Paul, South Ramsay on the Isle of Man (1982-87). After retirement and our move to Herefordshire he represented USPG in the Diocese and took services when needed. We also had many interesting holidays in Israel, Thailand and Russia. He liked driving and enjoyed planning the trips.' He is survived by his wife Joyce and children Elizabeth, Susan, Andrew, Alison and Caroline.
- Christopher Stacey Clark (TT 1945) died on 18 January 2014 aged 87. He was educated at Bloxham and came up to Keble as an Army Cadet. He was accommodated in St Edmund Hall, as Keble was still being used to accommodate government staff who were working at Blenheim Palace. After a year he was called-up and commissioned into the Royal Corps of Signals (1947). He returned to Keble (1949) to resume his studies in Agriculture. His wife Jane writes: 'Chris was able to take his MA at the same time as his BA (1951). Later that year he joined the Agricultural Division of Shell, working in the London Office. In 1956 he was posted to Nigeria for an eighteen month tour. On his return to the London Office he travelled extensively on short visits to Europe, including countries beyond the Iron Curtain. He also visited Egypt where he became very interested in the antiquities. In the late 1960s a way forward with Shell looked uncertain and he accepted an offer of voluntary redundancy in order to take up another career. In 1971 Chris started teaching Biology to 'A' Level and Chemistry to 'O' Level at Horley Comprehensive School in Surrey. He was well-suited to teaching, which he found to be rewarding but also a very demanding career (interestingly 1971 was the last year in which graduates were able to enter the teaching profession without a PGCE). Chris retired in 1986 and enjoyed having time to pursue his interests in music and woodwork and also gardening, all of which he did until his final (mercifully short) illness. He was a devoted family man and delighted in the company of his sons and grandchildren.'
- Michael John Corral (1957) died in May/June 2014 aged 76. He was educated at Magdalen College School, Brackley and after two years National Service came up to Keble to read Chemistry. He was a member of the John Keble Society and the University Scouts and Guides Club. He joined the Scientific Apparatus Division of AFI in Manchester (1961-66) and transferred to their Research Laboratories in Rugby (1967-68). He moved to English Electric Computers which became ICL (1969-75). He went to Germany as a Contract Technical Writer in Hamburg (1975-79) and then to Holland as a Contract Technical Writer in Apeldoorn (1979-81). He joined Philips Data Systems BV as a Technical Author (1981-93). The College was informed of his death by his nephew Simon Ganz.

Andrew Gordon David Cutter

died on 20 August 2013 after a severe stroke aged 83. His wife Philippa writes: 'Andrew was educated at Rossall School, Fleetwood, Lancashire. After studying Music there he was taught by Dr Francis Jackson for many years and gained valuable experience and made a major contribution to the singing and life of York Minster Choir. He won a Music Scholarship to Keble where he achieved an honours degree in Music. He enjoyed life as an undergraduate and was a member of the Oxford University Music Society and the University Bach Choir. In 1957 he became Assistant Organist at Newcastle Cathedral and in 1959 Assistant Organist of Chichester Cathedral where he met his wife Philippa. After his marriage his life's work was Organist and Choir Master of Wigan Parish Church. He also taught music for many years at Wigan Deanery High School. He conducted Wigan Choral Society, was Chairman of the Music Society and was responsible for helping run Wigan Music Festival which included choosing the adjudicators and those who accompanied the soloists at the festival. David relished his work with the Wigan choir boys, who were quite a mixed bunch, yet he inspired many to pursue distinguished careers. He and his wife retired to Wells in Somerset after thirty-four years at Wigan. He leaves a wife Philippa, daughter Jane, son-in-law Steven and granddaughter Ella. His son Julian, who suffered from muscular dystrophy, died in 1986. The Rector of Wigan, the Rev Ray Hutchinson, said: "Everyone who was involved in music will fondly remember him. He was a gifted organist and conductor with a phenomenal memory for people and a very kind nature."

Iain Campbell Dacre (1975)

died on 16 November 2013 aged 56. He was educated at St Neots and came up to Keble to read Modern Languages but withdrew at the end of his first year. He entered the travel business and became Managing Director (2008) of GW Travel Limited, who organised Voyages of a Lifetime by private train. He was instrumental in rebranding GW Travel as Golden Eagle Luxury Trains. A colleague of Iain (who informed the College of his death) wrote that his business planning saw the company experience its best ever year in 2013. Iain leaves a wife Libby and a young family.

Edward (Ted) William Dennis

died on 1 March 2013 aged 86. He was educated at King Edward VI School, Chelmsford and after military service came up to Keble to read History. He was a member of the College Heretics and the University History Society. He stayed on for the Diploma in Education (1952) and was appointed Head of the History Department at King Edward VI School, Alford (1953-65). He was Assistant Education Officer for the Derbyshire County Council (1966-68) and then the Assistant Director (Further Education) for the London Borough of Sutton Council. His wife Margaret writes that they married in 1960 and had two daughters Emma and Rebecca. 'Ted always valued his time spent at Keble and it was one of the happiest days of his life when his daughter Emma was accepted to study there. Emma read Theology (1980-83) and met her husband Leslie Lea, a postgraduate engineering student and they were married in Keble Chapel (1984). Rebecca read Geography at Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge. Ted's family played a very important part in his life and after his retirement they moved to Iffley, Oxford and much time was devoted to his four grandchildren. Ted had a love of natural history and was always alert to the plant and animal life around him. He found great pleasure in travelling and exploring the local history and architecture both in England and abroad. He was always an active member of his local church. He liked cooking, crosswords and gardening and when his heart condition worsened he read widely. He expressed a wish to leave his body to medical science and his family were pleased that it was accepted by Oxford University.'

Raymond Farnsworth (1953)

died on 21 May 2014 aged 81. He was educated at High Pavement Grammar School and trained as a pilot during his two year National Service. He came up to Keble to read Chemistry, rowed in the College VIII (1954-57), was JCR Treasurer, a member of the 13 Club and a member of the University Air Squadron. He made a career with the Mobil Oil Company working in research and development, planning, production, distribution, marketing and personnel. He served in the UK, Germany, USA and became a Co-Director of Mobil Oil Company Ltd. He lived in Alnwick and on his death the Northumberland Gazette described him as 'a community champion, a gentleman who was one of life's givers and a true friend of the town he loved'. He had served as a local Councillor in the 1990s and was Mayor of Alnwick (1992-93). He was involved in many community groups and organisations including Chair of the Governors, Alnwick South School, the town's Christmas lights, Rotary Club, Alnwick in Bloom, Civic Society and Alnwick Flower Show. In March 1987 he was responsible for the marathon task of planting 10,000 daffodils on all the approaches to the town. In 2012 his son David arranged a flight in a tiger moth as a Father's Day present and Ray was able once airborne to handle the controls for the first time after sixty-one years. His interests were salmon fishing, local history and family history. He leaves a wife Jean, son David, daughter Joanne and three grandchildren.

Richard (Dick) Fennelly Fawcett

died on 20 May 2014 aged 77. He was educated at St George's College, Weybridge and came up to Keble like his father (Eric Fawcett [1925] who with R O Gibson discovered polythene) to read Chemistry. He stayed on for a DPhil (1962) overlapping by one year his brother Bruce who had come up to Keble to read Medicine. Dick became a Research Chemist with Parke Davis and Company in Hounslow (1962-63) and moved to BP (1963-65). He joined

- John Wyeth and Brother in Taplow (1965-67) and then J A Kemp and Company (1967-75) where he qualified as a Patent Officer. He was a founder member of the Gray's Inn Eccentrics, a group of Intellectual Property professionals who met socially to play squash and golf. He moved to ICI's Plant Protection Division at Jealott's Hill (1975-85). Here he was involved in the notorious 'herbicide wars' between ICI, Dow, Ciba-Geigy and Ishihara over the almost simultaneous discovery and patent application for a class of compounds including 'Fusillade'. Returning to BP (1985) he was appointed Head of Patents (1989) and successfully dealt with a number of major UK patent infringements in the US, UK, France, Germany and Korea. This was a period of great change in BP and he also had to deal with conflicting requirements of manpower, budgets and politics. He was President of the Trade Marks, Patents and Designs Federation (TMPDF now the IP) (1991) and President of the Chartered Institute of Patent Agents (CIPA) (1995). Dick became well known in international patent circles and was a member of UK Government Delegations. After retiring from BP (1996) he continued to be involved in patent policy and for many years was a Consultant to the US law firm of Finnegan Henderson and to solicitors Bird and Bird. He had a wide range of interests including opera, art, history and sport. He leaves a wife Anne, a son Richard and his wife Robin and grandsons Henry and James.
- Roderic MacLeod Forrest (1948) died on 25 May 2014 aged 87. He was educated at Taunton School and served in the RAF (1945-48). He came up to Keble to read Law and played hockey for the College. He worked for Caribonum Ltd in the office equipment industry and then moved into management in the textile industry. When he retired he was Legal Manager with Leo Abse and Company (Solicitors) in Cardiff. He was very active in the South Wales sporting scene including sports journalism and was proud to be heavily associated for many years with Whitchurch Hockey Club. His son Will notified the College of his father's death: 'His mobility had declined sharply over the previous few months and he had spent quite some time in hospital over Christmas and New Year with pneumonia. He never lost his mental faculties and was a wonderful father and husband.' He leaves a wife Anna and son William.
- Anthony (Tony) Charles Gardiner (1966) died on 5 December 2012 aged 64. He was educated at High Storrs Grammar School for Boys, Sheffield and came up to Keble to read History. He was a member of the United Reformed Church and after a successful pastorate in Havant he spent most of his ministry in Yorkshire in the Castleford area, in Beeston Hill, Leeds and since 1999 in Otley at the town's Bridge Church. The Bridge Church treasurer wrote in the Wharfedale Observer: 'We are deeply shocked and deeply saddened by Tony's sudden death. He had been a United Reformed Church Minister for over forty years and for the last fourteen the much loved Minister of the Bridge Church in Otley and was due to retire in January. During his time in Otley Tony with his wife Karen exercised loving pastoral care not only for the family of the church but also in the town of Otley. The Reverend Gardiner, who had suffered from anxiety, had gone to his GP on Tuesday 4 December and then collapsed in church on 13 December. He had been taken to Harrogate District Hospital but was later discharged. He was found dead at his home later that day.' An inquest at Leeds heard that a post mortem confirmed hanging was the cause of death. A notice placed by his family paid tribute to Tony as the 'devoted and adored husband and soul mate of his wife Karen and deeply loved father of Matthew, Christopher, Faye and Sarah and doting granddad to Isabella, Poppy, Charlie and Noah'.
- Ian Grayston (1956) died in 2008 aged 71/72. Educated at the Royal Grammar School, Lancaster he came up to Keble to read History after two years National Service. He leaves a widow Mrs I Grayston.
- Michael John Hardy (1955) died on 5 January 2014 aged 78. Educated at Southend-on-Sea High School for Boys he came up to Keble as the Richard Taylor Exhibitioner after two years National Service in Malaya. He read Theology, was President of the College Debating Society (1957) and played hockey. He completed a probationary year as a teacher at Southchurch Hall High School before going to Cuddesdon Theological College (1959). He was ordained Deacon (1961) and Priest (1962). He was Assistant Curate of Dalton-in-Furness (1961-64) and then Assistant Curate of Harborne St Peter, Birmingham (1964-68). He moved to Ripon Cathedral as a Minor Canon and Succentor (1968-73) and served as the Appointments and Training Secretary of the United Society for the Propagation of the Gospel (1973-80). He was appointed Rector of St Peter, Stretford, Manchester (1980-91) and Priest-in-charge of Newton Hall, Durham which was ecumenical with a Methodist colleague (1991-96). He moved to be Rector of Keighley St Andrew until he retired (1996-2000). He married Catherine Orton (1967), a registered nurse and midwife and she wrote to us that he was interested in people and ecumenical projects, he believed in inclusiveness and being open to new ideas. He played the viola in the Holme Valley Orchestra and various groups. He was keen on carpentry and made much of their furniture. They had friends and family in Europe, Canada, Australia and New Zealand and enjoyed travelling to visit them. He leaves a wife Catherine and five children.
- John Michael Haslam (1960) died on 6 October 2013 aged 71. He was educated at King Edward VII School, Sheffield and came up to Keble as a Science Scholar to read Biochemistry. He stayed in Oxford working for a DPhil in the Department of Biochemistry (1964-67). He went to Australia to take up an appointment of Lecturer in Biochemistry at Monash University (1967-73). He returned to the UK to be a Senior Lecturer in Biochemistry at the University of Liverpool (1973-2003). He was a Governor of a primary and a secondary School and also of a college of further education. He served as Chairman and then Treasurer of the Wirral West Constituency Labour Party for eighteen years. In 1974 he became a Member of the Institute of Brewing. He was a member of the County Cricket Club and enjoyed watching Lancashire. His other interests were travel and languages. He died after a long and disabling illness. He leaves a wife Elizabeth and two daughters Jane and Katherine.

- Peter Austin Hicks (1959) died on 10 September 2013 aged 72. He was educated at Bristol Grammar School and came up to Keble to read Classics. He was College Representative and University Secretary of the Oxford Intercollegiate Christian Union (OICCU). He studied for a BD at Spurgeon's College, London (1963-66) and trained for the Baptist Ministry. He was appointed Minister of Newark Baptist Church in Nottinghamshire (1966). He served in Baptist Churches in Godstone, Surrey; Bushey and Watford, Hertfordshire; Harefield, Middlesex and Chenies, Buckinghamshire. In 1986 he completed a PhD at London University. He was a Lecturer in Philosophy and Pastoral Theology at the London Bible College (now the London School of Theology). His daughter Rachel tells us that 'he died after a short illness but his vibrant Christian faith lives on in the many young people he mentored and in the many lives touched by his generous service'. He leaves a wife, Gwen and daughter Rachel (St Anne's 1994) who works among students in Paris.
- Hugh Richard Jackson (1965) died on 22 February 2014 aged 67. He was educated at King's School, Canterbury and came up to Keble to read Law. He was Secretary of the College Athletics Team and a member of the University Centipedes Athletic Club for field events (1965-68). He also played rugby and cricket for the College. He trained as a solicitor and qualified in 1971. He was a Partner in Norton Rose until early 1997 and a Consultant with Charles Russell Consultants. His son Tom writes that his father died 'after a long fight with illness. It was thankfully a peaceful death with Jenny his wife at his side. His three children Sarah, Tom and Camilla were able to spend much of his final days with him.'
- Frederick Leonard Jones (1946) died on 13 November 2013 aged 86. His education at the Cathedral School for Boys in Shanghai was brought to an end at the age of fourteen when he was interned by the Japanese at Chapei, Shanghai (1941-45). A year later he came up to Keble to read PPE and was a member of the College hockey and table tennis teams. He trained in marketing and became Marketing Director of British Relay Electronics Ltd in Crawley, Sussex. He moved to Photax Ltd, Eastbourne, Sussex as Marketing Director and then went to Canada as Vice President Marketing with Philco-Ford in Toronto. Returning to the UK he was appointed Marketing Director of Philco-Ford International Ltd in London and then Marketing Director for AV Marketing Services also in London. He had been a Member of the Chartered Institute of Marketing since 1970 and was a Member of the Institute of Directors. He was also the Membership Secretary for the Association of British Civilian Internees, Far East Region (ABCIFER). His wife Irene writes: 'After his retirement he was able to spend more time following his main interests photography and watching cricket. He was a member of the MCC. He leaves a wife Irene, two daughters Penelope and Philippa and four grandchildren.'
- Kenneth Charles Norman George King (1951) died on 30 June 2014 aged 84. Educated at Barnard Castle School he came up to Keble after National Service to read Geography. He was JCR Treasurer and played rugby, cricket and squash for the College being Captain of Squash (1952-53). He also played squash for Durham County. He joined HM Overseas Civil Service and went to King's College, Cambridge for the HM Overseas Services Course (1954). He was appointed an Assistant District Commissioner in Nyasaland (1955-56). He returned to the UK and became an Assistant Master at Sandroyd Preparatory School, Tollard Royal, Wiltshire (1957-58). He moved to his old school Barnard Castle (1958) and became Senior Master and House Master (1963) retiring in 1990. His wife Yvonne writes: 'We married in 1995 (his first marriage) and we set up home in North West Norfolk. It was the first home that Kenneth had had as he had lived in school accommodation all his working life. We had nineteen happy years together. Barnard Castle School where he taught most of his life was the school where he had been and his father before him. His interests were travel, gardening and voluntary work.'
- Brian Michael Leavey (1961) died on 25 October 2013 aged 70. The following was prepared by a friend Andrew Pengelly (Keble 1961) at the request of Brian's family and friends: 'Educated at the Royal Russell School (The Royal Warehousemen's, Clerk's and Drapers School) he came up to Keble to read PPE as a pupil of Basil Mitchell, whom he much admired. He played both hockey and cricket for the College and hockey for the University Occasionals. As Captain of the College hockey team his selection methods were unorthodox but effective. Aspiring players were guided to the College beer cellar where he noted who bought a round and who did not. The rule was simple: no round – no place in the team. That year Keble won Hockey Cuppers. After a short period with Olivetti, he moved to Worcester where he became Head of Economics at the Royal Grammar School. He also met his wife Trisha, having moored his narrow boat at the bottom of her garden. Thereafter he joined the Royal Navy. It was an inspired move. He enjoyed the naval traditions and fellowship and sailed on HMS Fearless around the West Indies. After completing a Master's Degree at Warwick University he worked at the Ministry of Defence on a report about the future of the Navy. Later he rose to the rank of Captain and became Dean of Manadon Naval Engineering College in Plymouth. After retiring he displayed considerable skill at sculpting, painting, cooking, entertaining and house building. It was never easy to stop him playing the jester, which he did so well, but those who knew him also knew that beneath his quick wit lay the sensitivity, intelligence, curiosity, determination and gentleness that made his career such a success and his life so full of friends. He is survived by his wife Trisha, their daughter Harriet, and two step sons.'

Barry Michael Lester (1965)

died on 14 May 2014 aged 68. The following obituary was sent by Charles Evans (Keble 1962) and brings together contributions from Barry's wife Maria, his older brother Christopher, a colleague Bertie Price and Charles Evans. 'Born in London on 14 April 1946, Barry was the younger of two brothers. His elder brother Christopher was the more sporty, Barry the more academic. At Archbishop Tenison's School, Croydon, Barry was Head Boy in his last year. He went up to Keble to read History, always keeping in touch with the College after graduation and attending reunions at Oxford and other College events in London. He began work at Hawker Siddeley in their contract sales team (narrowly escaping the fate of those on the Heathrow-Kinshasa flight which crashed on take-off, the family learning after two hours that Barry had taken an earlier flight). Barry moved to Edward Bates (which succumbed to the banking crisis in 1973), and then to the Bank of England. From there he moved to the Bank of America. He became a ship financier, first in London and then in Piraeus as its Branch Manager. In Athens Barry first met Maria and they were married in August 1990 on Maria's Saint's Day. Returning to England in 1990 Barry and Maria settled in Blackheath. Both inveterate lovers of ballet, opera and art, they enjoyed an intense cultural life, made all the easier when Barry collected his over 60s Freedom Pass. Barry served as Chair of the Papillons Walk Residents' Association for many years. In 1992 Barry turned his hand to real estate restructuring at the Royal Trust Bank. His final job was with private finance initiatives at Tchenguiz Brothers. Barry and Maria welcomed many visitors to their home including many friends from Greece and in particular Maria's daughter Aphrodite and grandson Nikolas. But Barry's happy retirement was all too short. Always a loyal and devoted wife, Maria remained Barry's bulwark during his last days. Family and friends all noted Barry's versatility, his ability to master a wide range of differing disciplines and skills. To this he added irresistible charm and an impish humour. But throughout his life loyalty and love of family were dominant themes. A close friend had the last word: "Barry was not only a gentleman, he was also a gentle man."

(Sandy) Alexander Francis Joseph Lofthouse (1951)

died on 9 February 2014 aged 83. He was educated at the City of London School and after two years National Service came up to Keble to read English Literature. He was President of the Mitre Club (1954) and Chairman of the John Keble Society (1955). He had moved to St Stephen's House, Oxford (1954), was ordained Deacon (1956) and Priest (1957) being Curate of St James, Barrow-in-Furness (1956-60). He was appointed Vicar of Airedale with Fryston in the diocese of Wakefield (1960-70) and moved to be Vicar of Maryport in the diocese of Carlisle (1970-78). He was Priest-in-charge then Vicar of Helsington and of Underbarrow and of Levens (1978-95) being an Honorary Canon of Carlisle Cathedral (1985-95). He retired in 1995 and lived in Carnforth, Lancashire. As a Canon Emeritus he was still employed part-time in Church matters and was active in Support Ministry. In 2009 he attended the Keble English Dinner and wrote: 'Still some Vicaring, a lot of gardening, trying to keep the memory working by singing in choirs, musicals, Gilbert and Sullivan and taking part in plays. Recently bought a new bicycle.' He leaves a wife Anne and sons James (Keble 1984) and John.

Henry William Maddick (TT 1946)

died on 27 January 2014 aged 98. He was born in 1915 and educated at King Edward VI Grammar School, Totnes. Aged only sixteen he went to the University College of the Southwest in Exeter to read Economics. It was the height of the depression and his father was worried that Henry might not get a job, so as there was a vacancy for a clerk in the National Provincial Bank in Honiton he never completed his degree. He married Winn (1939) and was called up (1940) and posted to RAF Fighter Command. He was commissioned the following year, was sent to North Africa (1942) and was stationed in Egypt, Libya and Cyprus. He returned to the UK (1945) and was demobbed (1946). He came up to Keble to read PPE and then was appointed Lecturer in Politics and Economics at Wadham College (1949-50). He was Lecturer in Government and Administration at Birmingham University (1950-63) being seconded as a Programme Specialist with the Ford Foundation to be Associate Director of Public Administration at the National Institute of Community Development, Mussoori, India (1961-63). On his return to Birmingham he was made Senior Lecturer in Public Administration (1963-65). Influenced by the poverty he had seen in India he resolved to do his utmost to change it. He wrote articles, spoke on radio, lobbied the government and in 1964 founded the Institute of Local Government Studies (INLOGOV) which provided courses for administrators from developing countries. He also established (1966) the International Development Department and was appointed Professor of Local Government Studies (1965). He retired (1975) but continued to work part time both at home and abroad. Henry and Winn moved to St Mawes where they had built a house and owned a small yacht. He was Chairman and later President of the Truro Constituency Liberals and after they moved to Romsey he was President of that Constituency Party. Winn predeceased him (2000) but he is survived by Ian (Keble 1958), Bruce, Marisa, Kowido, eight grandchildren and all of his great grandchildren.

- Lucy Penelope Marriott (1984) died on 27 October 2010 aged 45. Educated at Marlborough College she came up to Keble to read Biological Science. Her father and her husband have requested no obituary.
- John Ormsby Tudor Owen (1939) died on 16 July 2014 aged 94. Educated at St Edmund's School, Canterbury he came up to Keble to read History. He played football and hockey for the College (1939-40) and cricket (1940) and completed Part 1 of a wartime Honours degree before being called-up. He was commissioned into the Royal Artillery and attained the rank of Captain by 1946. After demobilisation he returned to Keble to complete his degree (1947) and was Captain of the College Hockey Team (1946-47). He was appointed (1948) Assistant Master at King's School, Rochester becoming a House Master (1958) and remaining at the school teaching Classics and other subjects until he retired. David Marchant (Keble 1956) a former pupil of his notified the College of his death writing: 'It is not often that a schoolmaster has a memorial service unless he had reached the exalted height of a headship. An old Keble man has achieved this honour. John Owen (aka JOTO) was my House Tutor at King's, Rochester and became a lifelong friend. Like me he was intent on entering the priesthood but switched into teaching where he gave wonderful inspiration to hundreds of young men. His letters to me when I too started in the classroom were full of wisdom and immensely helpful. He was recruited by our Headmaster in 1948 to what was to be his only school. He turned his hand to many subjects, Latin, Greek and French to name a few. He had a ready wit and loved parodying the school plays with a pseudo Gilbertian playlet to finish off the Michaelmas term. He had a fine tenor voice. But he was also practical and built a scoreboard for the cricket field. He used us boarders to stencil the numbers onto the revolving canvas strips.'
- Samuel Keith Panter-Brick (1946) died on 18 October 2013 aged 93. He was educated at Wallasey Grammar School. Unfortunately family circumstances prevented him from going on to university and he worked in an office and joined the Territorial Army (1937-39). He was mobilized in the late summer of 1939 and served in the Cheshire Regiment who were to help defend the Maginot Line in France. On 19 May 1940 he was driving the lead truck of his platoon when they were ambushed. The officer beside him was killed and Keith was taken prisoner. He spent five years in Stalag XXA and Arbeitskommando units in occupied Poland working (as an ordinary soldier) like a virtual slave. Hoeing fields of turnips he told himself that if he survived he would study philosophy. He taught himself German, survived ten weeks in Graudenz prison for stealing some cheese and in 1944 took the chance to escape but was recaptured attempting to board a Swedish ship. In 1945 he was caught up in the German army retreat from the Russians and survived the exhausting and murderous forced march out of Poland, walking from January to April some 500km from Graudenz to Hanelin through the brutal Polish winter. His full experiences can be read in his 1999 book Years Not Wasted, 1940-45. After the war he achieved his promise to himself and came up to Keble to read PPE. He stayed for a BPhil (1950) and was appointed an Assistant Lecturer in the Government Department at the London School of Economics where he remained until his retirement (1985). He helped to build the field of international relations and his teaching extended to the International Relations Department, the Institute of Commonwealth Studies and institutions overseas. He was seconded as Professor of Public Administration to Ahmadu Bello University in northern Nigeria (1965-67). His published work included two landmark studies of Nigerian politics and many articles on the prospects for democracy and the right to self-determination in the newly independent countries of Africa. Long after retirement he remained a keen observer and active scholar of the emerging countries of the southern hemisphere. While at Keble he spent several weeks with German students at Goettingen as part of a programme to help the recovery of German universities. There he met Simone from Lorraine the first place his regiment had been posted to! They married and she wrote books on non-violence. Simone died in 2011 and they are survived by a multicultural family spread over four continents, including four children, eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.
- Richard Arthur Peace (1954) died on 5 December 2013 aged 80. He was educated at Ilkley Grammar School where he started to teach himself Russian and then spent two years National Service on the intensive Russian Course. He came up to Keble to read Russian and French and stayed on for a BLitt. He was an Assistant Master at Acklam Hall Grammar School, Middlesborough (1960-62) and was then appointed to the first lectureship in Russian at Bristol University. Under Richard's leadership a single honours programme in Russian and several joint degrees were introduced. In 1974 his sub-department was relocated into the newly formed School of Modern Languages. He moved to Hull University (1975) to take up the Chair of Russian where he also served as Dean of the Faculty of Arts (1982-84). He returned to Bristol to take up the newly created Chair of Russian and remained as Head of Department until he retired (1994). He served as President of the national association of Slavists (1977-81) (then the BUAS) and defended the subject against its 'rationalisation' in UK universities. He was Chairman of the Anglo-Soviet student exchange programme. He published books and articles on Dostoevsky, Gogol, Chekhov, Goncharov and others. After retiring he returned to his native Yorkshire and bought a house on the river Wharfe only three miles from where he grew up and was able to indulge in his passion for angling. Three weeks before his sudden death he and his wife attended a celebration at Bristol to mark the 50th anniversary of the department he had helped to found. He leaves a wife Virginia and daughters Mary and Catherine.

Robert Michael Purcell KCSG

died on 18 June 2014 aged 90. He was educated at Ampleforth, called up and commissioned into the King's Royal Rifle Corps 60th Rifles (Green Jackets) (1943-47). He took part in the Italian campaign (1944-45). He came up to Keble for the Colonial Service Course and joined the Colonial Service as an Administrative Cadet in Uganda (1949) being made a District Officer (1951-62). After the Colonial Service became HM Overseas Civil Service he worked for the Uganda Government Service (1962-63). He joined the Commonwealth Relations Office (CRO) which became the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) as a First Secretary (1964-68) and was posted to Colombo as First Secretary (Commercial/Economic) (1968-69). He was back in London at the FCO (1969-71) before going to Singapore as First Secretary (Aid) (1971-73). He was appointed Head of Chancery in HM Legation to the Holy See (1973-76) moving to Malta as Counsellor and Deputy High Commissioner (1977-80). His final move before retirement was as Ambassador to the Somali Democratic Republic (1980-83). He was made a Knight Commander of the Order of St Gregory the Great (KCSG 1976) and Companion of the Order of St Michael and St George (CMG 1983). He retired to Selborne in Hampshire to enjoy the country life, his books and bridge. He was also very interested in science and cosmology, religion and international affairs. He is survived by his daughter Jessica (Carlton).

Michael Bohun Ranson (1948)

died on 23 June 2014 aged 91. He was educated at King Edward VI Grammar School, Chelmsford, was called up and joined the Royal Corps of Signals (1942) being commissioned (1944) and served in the Middle East. After demobilisation he came up to Keble to read English Literature (two-year wartime degree) and stayed for the Diploma in Education (1951). He was a member of the College Athletics Team (1948-51) being its President (1949-50) and a member of the University Centipedes Athletics Club, the University Tortoises Athletics Club and also the Achilles Athletics Club. He was appointed Assistant Master at St John's School, Billericay (1951-54) and then moved to Nigeria. He was Head of the English Department at Ibadan Grammar School (1955-64) and a Lecturer at the Nigerian College. Continuing his interest in athletics he was Treasurer of the Western Nigeria AAA (1955-62) and coach to the Nigerian Athletics Team at the 1958 Commonwealth Games in Cardiff. He came back to the UK (1964) as Assistant Master at the City of Norwich School – Boys Grammar School which later became a Comprehensive (1962-86). He was Chairman and later Treasurer of Norfolk AAA (1965-72). In 1992 Michael and his wife Daphne spent two and a half months travelling around the world. He retired in 2006 from the Norwich Diocesan Synod having completed twenty-six years as a member, having been on the Bishop's Council and the Board of Finance. He also retired from the Loddon Deanery Synod where he was Lay Chairman. He was closely associated with Peter Dawson (Keble 1949) the Archdeacon of Norfolk for twenty years and during this time wrote two church guide books on Stoke Holy Cross and St Remegius, Dunston. He published The Greatest Little Boat in the World (1990). He was involved in dramatics in Nigeria and England. He leaves a wife Daphne, two sons Piers and John and three grandchildren Harry, Jonah and Poppy.

William (Bill) Brian Reeve

died on 26 March 2013 aged 81. Educated at the Royal Liberty Grammar School, Romford he completed his National Service (1950-52) and then worked for the Ford Motor Company Export Division (1952-54). He came up to Keble to read Geography, played football and cricket for the College being Captain of Football (1956-57) and playing for the University Centaurs AFC (1955). He was also JCR Librarian. He was appointed Head of Geography and House Tutor at Langley School, Norfolk (1957-63). He moved to Wellington School in Somerset as Geography Teacher and Day Housemaster (1968-80) becoming Boarding Housemaster until he retired (1980-86). He was a member of the National Trust, the Historic Houses Association, the Historical Society and had a keen interest in old buildings. He was also interested in all aspects of sport as a spectator. His wife Alys wrote: 'Memories of our visits to Oxford, for more than fifty years now, have always been happy ones. Bill sadly died after a long and debilitating illness. The cause being a large intracranial haemorrhage which happened just after Christmas 2008. Sadly he became partially blind, unable to express himself and many other cerebral complications which left him with an inability to pursue his love of books, conversation, walking and his numerous other interests. Being unable to communicate was particularly distressing for him.' He leaves a wife Alys, a daughter Charlotte (St Hilda's, PGCE), son Marcus (Oxford Brookes) and six grandchildren.

John Anthony (Tony)

died on 8 December 2013 aged 79. Educated at the Royal Masonic School, Bushey he came up to Keble after two years National Service. He read History and rowed for the College 1st VIII (1955). His daughter Kate writes that her father 'spent the next year (1957-58) as a Clerk in Barclays Overseas Bank in London. From there he joined Harlow College, Essex as an Assistant Master (1958-60) where he met Maxie, his future wife. They married in 1960 and moved to Glasgow where Tony had secured a position in the English Department at Glasgow Academy and entered fully into the professional and social life of the Academy. Here he inspired a generation of boys, not just in English but a variety of pursuits including leading the Army Cadets, cricket, running and orienteering. Tony was a keen runner and orienteer and organised the annual orienteering competition; the courses he designed reflected his own love of the outdoors. He involved himself with drama from an early stage, taking charge of the wardrobe and make-up; he was still helping out as prompter in the year he retired. He had become Senior Master in 1988 and retired from the Glasgow Academy in 1991. On retirement Tony moved to the relative isolation of Tomintoul, living off the land as far as possible, skiing when the snow fell and contributing to this small but vibrant local community which he had known since the early 60s where he spent every summer with his family. Sadly this independent and fulfilling lifestyle halted abruptly with a debilitating stroke in 2010. Tony bore the limitations of living in a care home with stoicism. He is survived by Maxie, their children Kat, Jonathan and Sue and granddaughters Eva and Tess who miss him dearly, grateful he is now at peace.'

Ronald (Ron) James Rigden

died on 22 October 2013 aged 89. He was educated at Chatham House School, called up for military service (1942) and commissioned into the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers. After demobilisation he came up to Keble to read Mathematics. At the time of his death he was living in Christchurch, Dorset.

John Imre Bernard Emmanuel

died on 19 February 2014 aged 83. He came up to Keble as a History Scholar and was President of Tenmantale (1952). His son Bernard notified the College of his death and wrote 'He was disabled from birth by cerebral palsy and he loved his time and the sense of freedom at Keble and Oxford'. 'My father once told me that he was the first catholic undergraduate at Keble.' His daughter Marie-Thérèse wrote 'My father was born in Graz, Austria and arrived in England in 1936 from Berlin and his parents came over later in 1938. My father was sent to prep school and then on to Ampleforth which he loved. After Keble he went on to study law. He married my mother Jacqueline (née del Rizzo) in 1959 and they had three children, Marie-Thérèse, Dominic and Bernard. My father was a solicitor who specialised in litigation; he initially trained to be a barrister, but it seems that my birth in 1962 put an end to those ambitions. In his later years he worked as a locum for various firms, including the Post Office as part of their in-house legal team. He never lost his enquiring mind and loved theology. He pursued this passion and studied for a MA in contemporary theology in the catholic tradition graduating in 2006 at the age of 76 from Heythrop College, University of London. He is survived by his three children and eight grandchildren.'

Martin Adrian Rush DFC (1949)

died on 25 October 2010 aged 91. He was born and educated in Middletown, Ohio, USA and in 1940 married Elizabeth (Betty) Miller. He enlisted in the United States Air Force and trained as a pilot. He was posted to a British bomber squadron and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross (1945). On demobilisation despite initial rejection by the Rhodes Trust and financial hardship but with the encouragement of his wife he decided to follow his dream to become a doctor. He gained an AB magna cum laude at Miami (Ohio) University (1948) and then entered the University of Cincinnati Medical School. During his course he came to Keble for two years as a Rhodes Scholar and read Physiology. He returned to Cincinnati and was awarded his MD (1953). He set up a private practice of general medicine in his home town Middletown (1954-59). He observed that people's physical illnesses were usually preceded by emotional stress and as he wanted to treat the underlying causes instead of symptoms he returned to Cincinnati Medical School to become a Psychiatrist (1959-62). He established a private practice in Psychiatry at Blue Ball just outside Middletown and in 1963 an outpatient daytime treatment centre for stress. In the 1990s because of hearing loss he invited patients to write out the parts of their therapy sessions which he could not hear – a later cochlear implant allowed him to return to conventional practice. In 2004 he returned to work only ten weeks after a devastating stroke telling patients that if the therapy session did not work out he would not charge them. Until September 2010 he was still seeing a few selected patients. He published Decoding the Secret Language of your Body (1994) and an autobiography Music Bravely Ringing (2008). He was a black belt Karate, first degree 1974 and second degree 1977. He is survived by his wife Betty, son David and daughter-in-law Bonnie, daughter Cynthia and son-in-law Patrick and grandchildren Allison and Rachel.

George Arnold Ruskell

died on 21 November 2012 aged 93. He was educated at Portora Royal School, Enniskillen and graduated from Trinity College, Dublin (BA, 1941). At Trinity College he became a Knight of the Camponile, Captain of Athletics and winner of an Irish title as a quarter miler. He trained for Holy Orders and was ordained Deacon (1942) and Priest (1943). He was Curate of Clonmel with Innislonagh (1942-44) and Curate of Monkstown (1944-45). He came up to Keble to read Theology but left after two terms to be Chaplain of St Stephen's Mission, Fort Chemo, Canada (1946-49). He moved to Lake Harbour in the North West Territory of Canada (1949-51) and was then Curate of St Thomas, Toronto (1952-54). He became Rector of Petrolia, Ontario (1954-56) and All Saints, Windsor, Ontario (1956-63) being an Honorary Canon of Huron (1958-63). He was the Incumbent of St John, Vancouver (1963-78) being the Examining Chaplain to the Bishop of New Westminster (1965-78). Next he was Chaplain to the Bishop Strachan School, Toronto until he retired (1978-84). He published Breaking the Ice: An Arctic Odyssey. He is survived by Sheila his devoted wife of sixty years and their daughters Vanessa, Jill (Gillian) and Moira and grandchildren Malcolm, Cynthia, Matthew, Nicholas and Dylan.

David Margam Sandercock
(1970)

died on 21 April 2014 aged 62. He was born in Hendon, London and educated at Croesceiliog Grammar School in Wales. He came up to Keble to read Geography, stayed on to do research and was awarded a BPhil. At the time of his death he was retired and living in Abergavenny near his brother. David and his wife Muriel had lived in Cornwall and he had been a School Information Technology Manager. He is survived by his brother Geoffrey who notified us of David's death.

Fares Sarofeem OBE (1921)

died on 24 February 1992 aged 89. He came from a prominent Coptic family who had a large estate at Minia in Egypt. He was educated at Victoria College, Alexandria and came up to Keble to read Law. He played football for the College (1921-24) being Captain (1923-24) and also cricket for the College (1921-23). He was President of the University Cosmopolitan Club (1923). He continued his studies in Paris and on return to Egypt he expanded his family estates at Minia by drilling wells on the eastern bank, pioneering methods of crop and animal husbandry and evolving a system of crop storage and banking facility that aimed at extricating the peasant from debt. He married (1930) Blanche a daughter of Morcos Pasha the founder of the Coptic Museum in Cairo. During the Second World War he was largely instrumental in financing and building the Alamein Club for Allied troops recreation at Gezira in Cairo and was one of its Executive Officers. After the war he helped to raise substantial funds through an Egyptian appeal committee to greatly expand the Enham Alamein village centre in Hampshire (founded 1917) which provided houses, training and work for disabled ex-servicemen. He was the last Egyptian vice-president of Enham Alamein (1944-59) and he was awarded an honorary OBE. He brought a cricket team to England (1951) and was a life-long member of the MCC. The land reforms of the Egyptian revolutionary government of the 1950s took away all the land he had created and loved and made him relinquish his foreign business interests. He had been a Board Member of Barclays DCO Egypt, ICI Egypt and other companies. However he refused to leave his country and ran the Golden Hotel in Cairo until the 1980s and always warmly welcomed young English travellers.

John Harper Shaw (1975)

died on 25 November 2013 aged 56. He was educated at Loughborough Grammar School and came up to Keble to read History. His brother Nick writes: 'Apart from playing cricket for the College he was a very active member of the Oxford University Broadcasting Service (OUBS), which proved crucial to his future career. John had a keen interest in music and broadcasting so he was delighted to land his first job at BBC Radio Nottingham (1978) as a Station Assistant. In 1980 he moved to the commercial station Radio Trent where he was the mainstay of the station's cultural output including the arts, cinemas, theatres, galleries, exhibitions and local music. He also presented both phone-in shows and a wide variety of programmes. During this period his shows also appeared on Leicester Sound FM, RAM-FM in Derby and GEM-AM. After leaving the Radio Trent Group in the early 1990s he worked for the BBC stations in Nottingham, Derby and Leicester with a wide variety of roles including presenting music programmes, sports reporting, outside broadcasts, training and providing technical support behind the scenes. In 2013 John provided reports and ball-by-ball commentary for all of Leicestershire's cricket matches for BBC Radio Leicester, a role he loved given his life-long love of cricket. In more recent years he spent more time in his home village Wymeswold and was a huge supporter of Wymeswold Cricket Club. He made his debut for the club aged thirteen before playing for the club for the next forty-three years – his final game being in September 2013. John liked to keep in touch with old Oxford colleagues and attended various Keble College reunions over the years. On Tuesday 10 December his home church of Wymeswold was packed for a Memorial Service where the story of his life was told and various tributes made including one by ex-Oxford colleague Jonathan Lermit.'

Jonathan Bernard Shaw (1978)

died on 7 August 2010 aged 49. The following are extracts from the tribute given at his funeral by his older brother Ewart Shaw (Keble 1971, Mathematics). 'Jonathan was always creative and original; one of his teachers once said there are always two approaches to every problem – Jonathan's way and everyone else's way. He went to Leeds Grammar School. Jonathan was most interested in chemistry but also won prizes for maths and for playing the clarinet. He had a beautiful touch both on the clarinet and on the piano. He could instantly hear what key a piece of music was in and would often play by ear. Jonathan stayed with me at Keble and everyone was very impressed that a thirteen year old could stand on his head and recite the periodic table backwards. He went to Keble in 1978 to read Chemistry but also became chairman of the Invariants (the Oxford Maths Society) for 1979-80 and was secretary of their computer group. His degree had included pharmacology and a fourth year project that involved considerable computer programming and in 1983 he came to Leeds as a PhD student working on molecular modelling and computer-aided design for pharmacology. While in Leeds he had many interests including bridge and outdoor pursuits such as walking, sailing, cycling, gliding and hang-gliding. Jonathan submitted his thesis in 1987 but sadly his life was already badly affected by alcohol and he never completed the required revisions. However he continued to develop his computing skills and worked as a computer operator and scientific programmer on various projects. He was prey to door-to-door salespeople and unfortunately his dependence on alcohol led to many difficult situations. In June this year (2010) Jonathan moved into a new flat in a much safer area than where he had lived previously. We hoped that he would settle in and start to make a new life for himself. Sadly, this did not happen, and Jonathan died at his home on the 7th of August, aged forty-nine.'

Michael Graham Smith (1938)

died on 18 October 2013 aged 93. He was educated at the Crypt Grammar School, Gloucester and after taking Mathematics Moderations he took a Physics BA war degree (1940). He remained in Oxford during the war in the Department of Physics Electrical Laboratory as a Departmental Demonstrator/Teacher (1940-46). He went to the Sudan as a Lecturer and then Senior Lecturer at the University of Khartoum (1946-54). He came back to the UK as an Extension Lecturer in Science in the Extramural Studies Department of King's College, University of Durham which was located in Newcastle-upon-Tyne and later became Newcastle University (1954-55). He moved to Bristol and held various posts at Bristol University ending as a part-time Senior Lecturer in Physics (1955-88). He was a member of the Institute of Physics and of the Royal Astronomical Society. He leaves a wife Jean, three sons and three grandchildren.

John Andrew (Andy) Stirrup (1981)

died on 9 January 2014 aged 51. He was educated at Bishop Wordsworth School and came up to Keble to read Chemistry. He joined Wyeth Chemical Company as a Research Chemist in Maidenhead, Reckitts, Sydney, Australia. In 1989 he went to Moores College, Sydney to read for a BA in Theology and stayed on for an MA in Theology (1993). He was a member of St Paul's Anglican Church in Menai, southern Sydney and joined the Cross Links Missionary Society. He spent five years as a Lecturer in Old Testament Studies at the St Philips Theological College in Kongwa, Tanzania with the Crosslinks mission. He returned to Australia and lectured in Old Testament, Greek, New Testament Exegesis and Family Ministry at Youthworks College in Loftus in South Sydney. Andy collapsed suddenly following a run with his son and paramedics were unable to revive him. The Youthworks College principal Andrew Nixon wrote: 'Andy was a foundational and much loved member of the College faculty, who over twelve years impacted and shaped the lives and ministry of several hundred students. He will be greatly missed by the College community, but most especially by his wife Kathy, their three children, Alexandria (Alex), Christopher (Chris) and James and his wider family.'

Naomi Ann Stratford (née La Riviere) (1980)

died on 14 June 2014 aged 51. Educated at Parkstone Grammar School she came up to Keble to read Engineering Science but decided to leave after successfully completing the first year examinations. She gained a MBA from Bournemouth Polytechnic (1991) and was Head of Information Technology for Davy Worldwide. She was appointed Client Services Manager at Silversands Computers in Poole, Dorset (1996-98) and then became Service Director for Fujitsu Services. Naomi was a Chartered Engineer and a Member of the Institute of Mechanical Engineers. She married Trevor Card (1987) was divorced and remarried (2009). She wrote to the College when one of her Engineering Tutors retired (Dr Martin Oldfield) and said: 'Despite having only spent one year at Keble I do have good memories of my time there.' Her husband Mike Stratford phoned the College to say that Naomi had passed away aged only 51. She also leaves a daughter.

Leonard Taylor (1966)

died on 18 August 2013 aged 82. His son Alan emailed that his father 'Due to being diagnosed as epileptic left school at the age of thirteen and only returned to studying via a scholarship to Ruskin College, Oxford by the National Tailoring Workers Union in 1964.' (He had been in employment and had been a Shop Steward.) At Ruskin College he gained a Diploma in Economics and Political Science (1966). He came to Keble for two years to study PPE completing his degree in 1968. His son Alan told us that his father was one of the first three Jews to be accepted to Keble. He was a Teacher for one year and then went to Leeds University for the Postgraduate Certificate in Education (1971). He was an Economics Lecturer (1972) and then a Lecturer at Harrogate College (1972-92). He was awarded a Diploma in Further Education (1974). While working on a PhD on Union History he was a Safety Advisor and Harrogate School Governor. He leaves a wife, Violet, who unfortunately suffered a massive stroke three days after Leonard's death, and a son Alan.

He graduated from University College, New York University (BA 1967) and worked as a Legislative Assistant to the Hon Andrew Stev a State Assemblyman (1968–71) and as Note and Document Editor of International Law and Politics. He also attended the New York University School of Law (JD 1971) and became a Member of the New York Bar Association and the New County Lawyers Association. Jeffrey came to Keble for postgraduate study in Philosophy (BPhil 1973) and returned to the USA as Executive Director of the Bar Institute and Law Center of New Jersey (1973–74). He formed Jeffrey S Ween and Associates and practised as an Attorney. His stepson Michael Kozek continues with his career: 'Jeffrey committed himself to tenant advocacy. As an attorney representing tenants and artists in New York City for over thirty-five years, Jeffrey leaves a legacy of tenacious, brilliant and creative advocacy. Through representation of Loft tenants he helped shape the development of many neighbourhoods throughout Manhattan and Brooklyn. He was a singular rare force in our field and will be remembered by all that had the fortune to meet him.' His wife Bonnie Kozek, to whom he was married for nearly seventeen years, writes: 'Jeffrey was stepfather to Michael and Michael became a full partner in 2013. Michael is continuing Jeffrey's legacy having picked up the mantle at Ween and Kozek LLi. Jeffrey didn't just influence the lives of his family, he actually transformed them. He was a bottomless wellspring of strength, courage, love, loyalty, trust and respect. He was passionately involved in politics and was also passionate about golf and was an amateur boxer. He loved to travel – especially throughout the desert landscape of North Africa. He was known for his faithfulness to Judaism and his pure joy and love of life.' He leaves a wife Bonnie, stepson Michael, stepdaughter Nicole and their daughters Noa and Sacha (born six months after Jeffrey's death).

NEWS OF OLD MEMBERS

- Colin Swatridge, BP Education Fellow in the spring of 1989, has published the Oxford Guide to Effective Argument and Critical Thinking (OUP 2014). It is addressed to anyone who looks to make a persuasive case in any essay, dissertation, or thesis – that is to say, to all students in higher education, and beyond.
- 1944 Peter Batchelor writes: 'Following the death of my wife Ruth in 2009 after nearly fifty-seven years of marriage, I married Vicki, a family friend of many years standing, in 2011. We now live in the cathedral city of Ely.'
- 1954 Ivar Watson had his novel, Scotland the Brave, a thematically contemporary work featuring the running down of the Clyde shipbuilding industry and the question of Scottish independence, published on 28 May 2014. His second work, Glimpses of Deep Spain, is a collection of his own short stories that are an authentic, but entertaining, retelling of Spanish life and the Spanish people, which blends fiction, local colour, history and the uniqueness of Spain. Ivar now lives in Spain. Since leaving Keble, he has worked as an English teacher at the British Council Institutes in Seville and Barcelona, and later worked as an English lecturer at the Shah of Persia's University at Shiraz and as a Professor of English Literature at the University of Deusto, Bilbao.
- 1957 Franklin Cardy is in the process of 'downsizing' to a house he has re-designed on the waterfront of the harbour of St Andrews, New Brunswick and enjoying retirement very much. He writes: 'I would be glad to hear from any old Bricks that can find us.'
- 1958 Martin Yould has now retired, aged 75.
- 1959 Derek Haylock writes: 'Still in Norwich and still writing! Recently published: fifth edition of the best-selling Mathematics Explained for Primary Teachers (Sage Publications), complete with downloadable e-book version and numerous additional electronic features; second edition of the companion Student Workbook; and Mathematics Explained for Healthcare Practitioners.'
- Peter Udell writes: 'After thirty years in the BBC World Service, and twenty years in retirement, I've published a long story that's available through Amazon as an e-book and as a paperback. It's a romance, and the action of one chapter takes place in Oxford. Its title: Just Now and Then.'
- 1960 Anthony Horne writes: 'I have just published my third novel set in ancient Rome, entitled The Daughters of Cannae. This follows my two earlier books, In the Shadows of Caesar and Domitilla and the Goddess. All are available as e-books.'
- David Pollock writes: 'I was in charge of creating the programme for the triennial World Humanist Congress held in Oxford from 8 - 10 August 2014. The theme was "Freedom of thought and expression – forging a twenty-first century enlightenment" and was attended by 850-900 people from across the world, some from countries with poor human rights records on bursaries financed by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office. I now represent the International Humanist and Ethical Union at the Council of Europe.'
- 1961 Alan Timblich writes: 'I am now into my eighth decade, fifth since leaving Keble, third since retiring from Barclays, well settled into ex-pat life in South Korea, where working with "British interests" earned me an OBE in 1995. Shunned ruminating at home and recently joined Korea's only online English language newspaper, The Seoul Times (www.TheSeoulTimes.com) as President. Plenty busy!'
- 1962 Andrew Bunbury has composed two pieces for choir and piano, In Flanders Fields and Waffenfreunde. In Flanders Fields premiered on 28 September 2013 in Amiens Cathedral, performed by the English Concert Singers and directed by Roy Wales, and had its UK premiere on 6 July 2014 in Abbey House, Glastonbury, performed by the Cantilena Choir and directed by Tony Bevan. Waffenfreunde premiered on 12 July in St Anne's Church, Wandsworth, performed by the South West London Choral Society and directed by Martin Everett. Scores of these and other compositions are to be found at www.scoreexchange.com/profiles/bunbury.
- 1963 Carl Garner writes: 'I officially retired at the end of 2012. Since the beginning of 2013 I have had a "house for duty" post as Domestic Chaplain to the Marquess of Salisbury.'
- Cedric Porter published 'Pilgrimage and anti-pilgrimage: Shusaku Endo's The Samurai' in the Spring 2014 issue of The Glass, the journal of the Christian Literary Studies Group. It also included the poem 'The Way (for Cida)' which is featured in a forthcoming book of prose and verse, At the Gate Called Beautiful.
- Glennville Whittaker has independently published a new look on Jesus' life and work, For Christ's Sake: pressing the refresh button on the life of Jesus, presenting him not as a miracle worker but as a teacher of inner experience of the divine. It is available as a paperback or e-book from Amazon. ISBN: 978-1496033048.
- Keith Wilson retired as Professor of International Politics at the University of Leeds in 2008.
