The college proposes to elect a part-time Stipendiary Lecturer in Applied Mathematics for Michaelmas term 2020 and Hilary term 2021. The successful candidate will be expected to give 6 weighted hours tutorials per week to first and second-year undergraduate students in Applied Mathematics courses (e.g., Introductory Calculus, Multivariable Calculus, Fourier Series and Partial Differential Equations, Differential Equations I and Differential Equations II, Integral Transforms). The person appointed will be required to set and mark collections in these subjects, and to assist with the routine administration and organization of teaching in this area, undergraduate admissions, and the pastoral care of students.

The appointment will be made pro rata on the Stipendiary Lecturers annual scale from £13,756 - £15,471 (2019-20 rates, subject to annual uplift) depending on experience. The Lecturer will be entitled to 6 free meals per week (lunch or dinner) per week when the College kitchens are open, and the use of a computer and a shared teaching room. There is an academic allowance of (pro rata) £351 p.a.. To comply with employment legislation the successful candidate will be required to provide documentary evidence of his or her eligibility for employment before starting work with the College.

Informal enquiries about this post may be made to Professor Helen Byrne (e-mail: helen.byrne@keble.ox.ac.uk). Further particulars are available at https://www.keble.ox.ac.uk/about/vacancies

Applications should reach the Student Administration Manager, Penny Bateman at College.Office@keble.ox.ac.uk not later than 12.00 noon Wednesday 8th April 2020. They should contain brief particulars of the candidate, including a summary of career and details of education, degrees and other qualifications; experience in teaching, research or other employment; research in progress or planned; details of publications, prizes or awards (if any); and the names and addresses of two referees who can speak with detailed knowledge about the candidate. Candidates should also ask their referees to write directly to the Student Administration Manager by the same date.

Applications are particularly welcome from women and black and minority ethnic candidates who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.
